Author Alley

Saturday, July 11th, 2020, 12pm-4pm

We are pleased that you are interested in participating in our annual Author Alley event. In response to the growing success of Author Alley, we now need to cap participation at 50 authors. Participation will be juried by Loganberry Staff with first choice going to local authors whose book has been published within the past 12 months. To enhance the professionalism of the event, and to ensure a positive experience for everyone, we have established clear and defined requirements, rules and expectations. Please review, and if you have any questions feel free to contact Miesha Headen at 216.795.9800 or miesha@logan.com.

1. Author Alley is a gathering and book sale for local writers. Self-published as well as nationally published authors working in Northeast Ohio will have the opportunity to meet and mix with each other, swap writing and publishing stories, as well as meet their loyal and potential readers.
2. Participation is free for both authors and audience. Space is limited and participation is juried by staff to ensure a compelling event year to year. Participation is capped at 50 authors. Loganberry may refuse any exhibitor for any reason.
3. As an independent bookstore we look at this event as a way to support our local authors. While not stipulated, we hope that participating authors live in northeast Ohio, have direct ties to the area, or explore a subject relating to Ohio.
4. Books must be professionally bound and ISBN registered.
5. Loganberry Books will be responsible for supplying books published and distributed through mainstream publishers or distributors.
6. Self-published or POD books must be supplied by the author (i.e. Create Space, Lulu, iUniverse, AuthorHouse, etc.). Loganberry Books will take the standard 40% commission, and pay for the sold copies within one month. You will receive a Purchase Order (written request) for the inventory needed for Author Alley. You must then supply Loganberry Books the requested inventory 6-8 weeks before the event to allow time for processing and promotion. Our storage space is limited so please only bring what is requested. You will not need to bring any additional inventory the day of the event unless requested by Loganberry staff.
7. Loganberry Books will serve as sales agent of the day, taking care of all point-of-sale business (change, checks, credit cards, receipts, bags, sales tax, etc.).
8. All sales must go through Loganberry Books. Books may not be traded, bartered, swapped or given away during Author Alley.
9. Authors will supply short book descriptions (blurbs), an author headshot, and book images (.gif or .jpg) for promotional use, due 6-8 weeks before event.
10. Author must commit to actively marketing and advertising their appearance at Author Alley. Your website and/or social media must link to www.loganberrybooks.com. In addition, we ask that you please do some or all of the following:
 - Invite 10-25 people to the event (family, neighbors, co-workers, local reporters, etc.)
 - Place a minimum of 5 flyers promoting your appearance at Author Alley in various locations around town.
 - Blog about the event before and after.
 - Take advantage of social media to promote your appearance at the event; please tag @LoganberryBooks.

11. Weather permitting, we will set up in the driveway area to the east of Loganberry Books. Tables and chairs will be provided. If you have any special needs please discuss this with Loganberry staff well in advance of the event so necessary arrangements can be made.
12. Authors will be provided table space and a chair to meet, greet and engage customers in a professional manner. Authors may bring additional marketing materials to help them with this process, but please keep in mind outdoor conditions and limited space. All marketing materials must directly relate to the book. No political/social propaganda. Friends and family members are encouraged to come and enjoy the event, but they are not permitted to sit with you at the table.
13. Official hours are 12pm-4pm. Please begin setting up sometime after 11am, and be ready for customers by noon. No exhibit may be dismantled prior to 4:00pm.
14. Parking will be provided in parking lot near Loganberry Books. We will provide you with parking details closer to date.
15. Author agrees to be available for interviews and photographs prior to or during the event (as available). We reserve the right to use these photos and interviews for any promotion.
16. Loganberry Books is not responsible for the safety of exhibits or exhibitors. Personal injury and property insurance is solely the exhibitor's responsibility.
17. There is no smoking in the building or on the lawn/driveway of Loganberry Books.
18. This event is part of the Larchmere Festival sponsored by the Larchmere Merchants Association.
